

General International Memorandum of Understanding (GIMOU) Proposal Form

A General International Memorandum of Understanding (GIMOU) is an umbrella agreement that states a general intent to collaborate. It provides basic information about both institutions, but does not articulate specific activities or commit resources. While the creation of an international agreement is necessary in some cases, often collaboration and partnership can be built without the signing of an official agreement. Please complete the proposal form below. The Office of Global Partnerships & Initiatives uses this proposal process to determine whether or not an agreement is necessary.
